"Material violation" means a breach of any of the Merchant's obligations explicitly identified as material in this Supplement or in the Annexes hereto. However, if the Acquirer or ICCO imposes Fines exceeding this amount (e.g., up to EUR 2,000,000 as per Scheme Rules), the Merchant is fully liable to indemnify Paysera for the full amount of such Fines.

38. Paysera has the right to terminate the provision of services according to the present Supplement without a prior warning if the Acquirer refuses to provide or has no right to provide the present service or use relevant card trademarks, and also if Paysera loses its right to provide relevant services.

Provisions related to the Recurring payment service

39. In order to use the Recurring payment service, the Merchant shall submit to Paysera a relevant Project or amendment of a Project. All the aforementioned conditions apply to the Merchant using the Recurring payment service in addition to the clauses stated in this chapter.
40. In case the Merchant accepts any recurring payments, the Merchant must explain to the Cardholder the actions the Cardholder must take in order to cancel the delivery/provision of goods and/or services and related charges when the Cardholder cancels the goods and/or services; and must not submit Transaction Data to ICCO after ICCO or the Cardholder's issuing institution requests to stop the provision of services at the Cardholder's request.
41. In order to use the Recurring payment service, the Merchant must conclude a recurring transaction agreement (hereinafter the RTA) with the Buyer, where the Merchant must:
 - 41.1. obtain express consent from the Buyer at the point of checkout or sale to periodically charge for recurring payment services and agree on the period of consent;
 - 41.2. when obtaining that consent, the Merchant must provide the Buyer with the following information:

41.2.1. the payment date and whether it is fixed or variable;

41.2.2. the agreed method of communication for all future correspondence.

41.3. retain evidence of that consent in the format in which it was given (such as email, other electronic records, paper documents, or clear description of processes if permission is given explicitly in the process and there is no possibility to continue the process without permission) for the duration of that recurring payment and provide it to Paysera (or the Buyer's card issuer) upon their request.

42. All recurring payments must be authorised. Failure to get authorisation for a recurring payment or the submission to the clearing of a recurring transaction that has previously been declined may result in ICCO non-compliance action.
43. The Merchant shall comply with the Stored Credentials framework applicable to the relevant card scheme (Visa Stored Credential Transaction Framework / Mastercard Credential-on-File rules), including correct flagging of Merchant-Initiated Transactions (MIT) versus Cardholder-Initiated Transactions (CIT) for each subsequent Transaction, retention of the initial Cardholder consent, and use of Network Tokens (Visa Token Service / Mastercard Digital Enablement Service) where supported by the Acquirer. Failure to correctly identify MIT/CIT may result in declines, ICCO non-compliance assessments, and chargebacks for which the Merchant remains liable.
44. The Merchant should ensure that they do not:
 - 44.1. apply any other charges than those referred to in the RTA;
 - 44.2. submit a recurring payment if it receives a response indicating revoked authorisation for further Transactions;
 - 44.3. submit incorrect or misleading authorisation data in an attempt to avoid a stop instruction placed against a card;
 - 44.4. not to store the data of the Card after authorisation.
45. The Merchant has to:
 - 45.1. ensure that billing is stopped immediately upon the customer fulfilling the cancellation terms – provide them with cancellation confirmation including when the last payment is due if this has not already occurred, or if a credit is due when the credit will be processed;
 - 45.2. ensure that the customer is notified when goods or services cannot be delivered or provided on the agreed date;
 - 45.3. train the Merchant's sales and customer service staff on the proper procedures for setting up and submitting recurring transactions.
46. The Merchant must use the agreed method of communication and provide notification to the customer prior to a recurring payment or immediately after processing it if any of the following apply:
 - 46.1. more than six months have elapsed since the previous recurring payment;
 - 46.2. the RTA has been changed, including any change to the amount or the date of the recurring transaction.
 - 46.3. after every successful recurring billing, providing an electronic receipt or notification that includes clear instructions and an easily accessible online link to cancel the subscription.
47. The Merchant must ensure the following:
 - 47.1. provide an online cancellation procedure for recurring payments;
 - 47.2. check the records of customer applications for cancellation or non-renewal requests related to recurring payments;
 - 47.3. if a cancellation request is received too late to prevent the most recent recurring payment from posting to the customer's account, process the credit as soon as possible and notify the customer.
 - 47.4. Should a customer dispute a recurring payment and/or their card issuer raises a chargeback, this may not be challenged under the Rules and Regulations. The Merchant must pursue the matter directly with their customer.

48. The Supplement comes into effect after the Merchant expresses their consent with its conditions electronically, i.e. an electronic signature, and after the Merchant submits the documents required by Paysera.
49. By this Supplement, the Client confirms that they have all the necessary powers of attorney to order this service under the name of the business client.
